

Foreword

The 40th annual meeting of the Linguistics Society of the Netherlands took place in Utrecht on February 7th, 2009. The annual meetings provide members with the opportunity to report on their ongoing research. At this year's meeting, 80 papers were presented, of which 23 were submitted to the present volume.

This volume contains a selection of these papers, which present an overview of current research in a variety of fields of linguistics. We wish to thank 49 reviewers for their help in refereeing the papers submitted to this volume.
