Journal of Asian Pacific Communication

Guidelines for contributors

- All manuscripts and other contributions should be addressed to the editors at one of the email addresses given below. All submission files must specify that the manuscript submitted is not under consideration elsewhere and has not been published elsewhere in this or a substantially similar form.
- Manuscripts should not exceed 8,000 words, approximately 27 pages double-spaced. The first page should contain the title of the article; the name of the author(s), affiliation, and contact details including the email address of the author. Make sure that no page other than the cover pages should give the author's name. Peer review of the manuscript will be anonymous.
- Every submission should include a self-contained abstract in English (no more than 100-150 words) and a short list of key words.
- Submit via email or mail an electronic CD disc version double-spaced in conformance to APA style in MS-Word format. Include all author names, titles, full mailing addresses, e-mail addresses, and telephone numbers. An abstract should be included. This should not generally exceed 200 words.
- For the delivery of the final version, the article should be presented MS-Word format. This may delivered by email or on a CD disc.
- References in the text should follow APA style. Cite references by last name and year of publication. Three or more authors, cite complete names at first mention. Then use et al. If there are more than 7 authors, use et al. the first time. If there is more than one citation in the text, list publications chronologically.
- Reference style—follow APA style, e.g., Single author works, list chronologically; co-authored works, list alphabetically and then chronologically; co-authored works (three or more authors) list chronologically. List all authors, last name first, followed by initials. Do not use et al. Spell out all journal names.

Sample references:

- Essential notes (Footnotes/Endnotes) should be numbered in the text and grouped together at the end of the article. Diagrams and figures should not be embedded within the text. Hard copy of all figures must be provided along with any electronic files, for grey scales TIFF format is preferred, for line drawings EPS format.
The lead author of an article will receive page proofs for correction via email. Corrected page proofs must be returned to the editor by the date specified in the letter accompanying the proofs. This stage must not be used as an opportunity to revise the paper. Because alterations are extremely costly, extensive changes could be charged to the author and may result in the article being placed in a later issue.

Authors of articles will receive a complimentary copy of the issue in which their paper appears. The editors invite relevant contributions which may be submitted to:

Herbert Pierson
piersonh@stjohns.edu or piersonh@hotmail.com

Journal of Asian Pacific Communication
c/o Department of Languages & Literatures
St. John's University
8000 Utopia Parkway
Queens, NY 11439
USA